What is the Chase Travel Flight Change Policy?

First, it is crucial to understand that the Chase Travel flight change policy is not a single, monolithic set of rules. Instead, it acts as a framework through which the policies of the underlying airline are applied .

When you book a flight through Chase Travel (powered by platforms like Expedia), Chase acts as the travel agency or "middle man" . This means:

- Your ticket is subject to the fare rules of the specific airline (e.g., Delta, United, American).
- The ability to change, cancel, or get a refund depends on the type of fare you purchased (Basic Economy, Main Cabin, Refundable, etc.).
- Most changes and cancellations must be processed through Chase Travel, not directly with the airline .

Step-by-Step: How to Change a Flight Under the Chase Travel Flight Change Policy

There are two primary ways to initiate a flight change: online or by phone.

Method 1: Changing Your Flight Online

For many itineraries, the Chase Travel flight change policy allows for self-service online .

1. Log In: Access your Chase account via the website or mobile app.
2. Navigate to Travel: Go to the Ultimate Rewards section and select "Travel."
3. Find Your Trip: Click on "Your Trips" or "My Bookings" and locate the flight you need to change.

4. Select Change: Look for a "Change Flight" or "Modify Booking" button.
5. Choose New Flight: Search for alternative flights and dates.
6. Review Costs: The system will display any fare difference or applicable fees.
7. Confirm: Complete the change and save your new confirmation details.

Note: Online changes may not be available for complex bookings, international itineraries, or flights booked with a mix of points and cash.

Method 2: Calling Chase Travel Support (Recommended for Complex Issues)

When the online portal doesn't work, or you have questions about the Chase Travel flight change policy, calling a live agent is the most effective solution. The dedicated support line is +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  .

When to call:

- Your ticket is a "non-changeable" fare like Basic Economy.
- You booked using Chase Ultimate Rewards points.
- The airline has canceled or significantly changed your flight.
- You need a same-day change.
- You are unsure about the fees involved.

Fees and Costs: Breaking Down the Chase Travel Flight Change Policy

The cost of changing a flight is the most confusing aspect for travelers. Here is how the Chase Travel flight change policy handles fees :

1. Airline Change Fees

- Domestic Flights: Most major U.S. airlines (including Delta, American, and United) have eliminated standard change fees for main cabin and above tickets on domestic routes. However, Basic Economy fares are often the exception and remain non-changeable or carry high fees.
- International Flights: Change fees for international tickets vary wildly by carrier and fare class. They can range from $0 to $400 or more.
- Chase's Role: Chase does not typically add its own change fee, but it must collect any fees mandated by the airline.

2. Fare Differences

Regardless of airline fees, you are responsible for paying the difference in price if your new flight is more expensive than your original one. This is a cornerstone of the Chase Travel flight change policy .

- If the new flight is cheaper, the policy varies by airline. Some may offer a travel credit for the difference, while others do not.
- An agent can explain these fare implications before you confirm the change.

3. Points Bookings

If you used Chase Ultimate Rewards points, the Chase Travel flight change policy works similarly:

- If the new flight requires more points, you will need to pay the additional points.
- If the new flight requires fewer points, the difference is typically redeposited into your Ultimate Rewards account, though this can take a few days to process .

Same-Day Flight Changes and Chase Travel

Many airlines offer same-day flight changes for a nominal fee or even for free for elite members. How does this interact with the Chase Travel flight change policy?

You must still go through Chase. While the airline at the airport might be able to help, they often cannot modify tickets issued by third-party agencies like Chase Travel .

Calling +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  ensures the change is made correctly and your seat assignment and checked baggage allowances carry over.

What If the Airline Changes Your Flight?

If the airline modifies or cancels your schedule, you are protected by a different set of rules. In these cases, the Chase Travel flight change policy typically allows for :

- Free Rebooking: You can change to another flight on the same airline without paying a fare difference or fee.
- Full Refund: If the schedule change is significant (e.g., a change of several hours) or the flight is canceled, you are entitled to a full refund to your original payment method, even on non-refundable tickets.

Contact Chase immediately at +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  to explore your options if your airline makes the first move.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) About the Chase Travel Flight Change Policy

To ensure you are fully prepared, here are the most common questions regarding the Chase Travel flight change policy.

1. Can I change a flight booked through Chase Travel for free?

Some airlines allow free changes, but fare differences may apply. Eligibility depends on the airline and ticket type (e.g., Main Cabin vs. Basic Economy). Calling +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  can help you determine if your specific fare qualifies for a free change .

2. What is the Chase Travel customer service number for flight changes?

The primary number for flight assistance is +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  . This connects you specifically to the travel division .

3. What happens if I miss my flight? Does the Chase Travel flight change policy help?

If you miss your flight, you are considered a "no-show." In most cases, the airline will cancel the remainder of your itinerary. You should contact Chase Travel immediately at +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  . Depending on the fare, they may be able to book you on a later flight for a fee, but there is no guarantee .

4. How long does it take to change a flight through Chase Travel?

Online changes are usually instant. Phone-assisted changes may take longer depending on call volume and airline response times, but agents work to process them while you are on the line .

5. Can I change an international flight booked through Chase Travel?

Yes, international flights can be changed, but they often have stricter rules, higher change fees, and are more likely to require phone assistance. Call +1⇒(888)→483→97.19  for international changes .

6. Will my seat selection and baggage carry over after a change?

Not always. When you change a flight, your new booking is essentially a new ticket. Seat assignments and baggage options may need to be reselected. Always double-check these details on your new confirmation .

7. What information do I need to have ready when calling?

To expedite the process, have the following ready :

- Your booking confirmation number.
- The last 4 digits of the Chase card used for booking.
- Passenger names exactly as on the ticket.
- Your preferred new flight options or dates.

8. If I cancel instead of change, will I get my points back?

If you cancel a refundable ticket booked with points, your points will be redeposited. If you cancel a non-refundable ticket booked with points, you will likely receive an airline credit (or Chase Travel credit) for the value of the ticket, but your points may not be returned. The specific outcome depends on the Chase Travel flight change policy and the airline's rules .

Tips to Avoid Fees Under the Chase Travel Flight Change Policy

- Book Flexible Fares: When booking, look for fares labeled "Refundable" or "Flexible." They cost more upfront but save money and hassle later .
- Avoid Basic Economy: If your plans are not 100% certain, pay a little extra to avoid Basic Economy, which is often locked into the strictest Chase Travel flight change policy.
- Act Fast: If you know you need to change, do it as early as possible. Fares tend to rise as the departure date approaches, increasing the fare difference you'll have to pay.
- Use the 24-Hour Rule: The U.S. Department of Transportation requires airlines to hold a reservation at the quoted fare for 24 hours without payment or allow cancellation within 24 hours of booking for a full refund. This applies to bookings made through Chase Travel as well .

Conclusion

Understanding the Chase Travel flight change policy is the key to stress-free travel modifications. Remember that your ability to change a flight is a partnership between Chase's platform and the airline's specific rules. While many changes can be made online, complex situations, points bookings, and urgent issues require a human touch.
